

Discussion Questions for “Han Values Cargo Greater Than His Life”

1. In your own words, explain the Statistical Value of Life shown in this clip:
2. Can you give an example of a way where you take a higher risk of death or injury to save money?
3. Han decides that the value of the cargo is worth more than his life - something that governments do before making some decisions. What is the dollar value you think economists have placed on the price of a life?
4. Provide an example of Statistical Value of Life in the real world: